> Little past mid day I thought we had a tentative approval from WSDOT for a one week delay, if I were to sign the SDEIS today (and I actually signed this in front of WSDOT's lead NEPA staff., Ms. Farley). The mayor approved this alternative. I was hopeful that we had found a way to proceed.

Like you, I value the many years of outstanding working relationships among our staff, and I think we have the ability to retain the value of that work, and continue building on it . We still have much hard work to do and we intend to continue working with you in a cooperative manner.

P.S. A minute ago I heard from CM Conlin and CM Rassmussen about the council action today.

Peter, I wanted to send you an email reiterating our need for your signature for the SDEIS document today by 4pm. I wanted to thank you for the numerous discussions we've had since late yesterday regarding our timeline. As you know, this timeline has been established for some time. We have jointly made public statements regarding the dates for needed signatures. The importance of our joint commitment on our schedule is critical and your signature as co-lead, on behalf of the City of Seattle, ensures that we maintain the schedule. I've attached a document that details the joint effort you and your team, along with WSDOT and FHWA have undertaken in the last 14 months to get us to this point. Please know we appreciate all of the hard work by you and your staff, in what has been a grueling endeavor. We believe the document, we will be jointly sending to publication, is a reflection of the valuable input by your team, at the City. I hope you would agree, that the content and quality of the document clearly illustrates the importance, to the City of Seattle, of your co-lead status. Thanks again for your continuing partnership. Ron j
