Mike,

I have been concentrating on the north end. Alec will have to answer this.

Subject: SR 99 Bored Tunnel Estimate

Good morning Alec and Paul,

I just got a call from Pete Jilek, FHWA, and he had a request from their Government Accounting Practices wondering if there was cost yet for the bored tunnel project and all that that project would entail -viaduct removal, seawall repair. The cost doesn't have to be of any great detail.

I told Pete the only cost I was aware of at my end was what was in the newspapers. I also told Pete that the design team was still trying to quantify their design and overall work so a cost at this time may not be of a high degree of accuracy. Anyway, I can pass on the cost of what the media has been using but I thought I'd check with you to see if you had some movement on that cost which would provide a little better number.

Thanks
