I haven't heard from him yet -- can go about 1 more hour before cutting the story loose for 2008.

Sorry Mike, I was away from the computer for a bit. Ron Paananen was going to call - let me know if you haven't heard from him yet.

I'm working on that one still - it will be after 1 p.m., so go get some food.

Thanks --
I'll still need to chat with a project engineer or manager. Is that still on?
If it's after 1 p.m., I should go eat now.

Sure do - all the presentations from that briefing can be found here, under the heading "Stakeholder Advisory Committee briefing - Dec. 16, 2008":
<http://www.wsdot.wa.gov/Projects/Viaduct/library-meetingmaterials.htm>

Pages 6-10 of the "bored tunnel presentation" will answer some of your questions re: alignment and diameter.

I've got a black/white printout, but a color version would be easier to read, regarding the tunnel alignment compared to other tunnels the already exist.
